TEAM Development Training
 We come to you - on your Practice ice!

Tim Turk Hockey aims to develop hockey players to their fullest potential while maintaining their motivation. We create a POSITIVE, ENTHUSIASTIC and FUN program directed toward instilling a long lasting desire to play hockey ... The Greatest Game on Earth!

At Tim Turk Hockey we understand the importance of shooting. If every player has the knowledge of the proper technique, then as a team the percentage of shots-on-goal will rise.

Starting with an evaluation session, we'll develop a step-by-step program that addresses weaknesses, while building on strengths. Subsequent sessions will be devoted to teaching proper techniques for maximum power, pin-point accuracy and total puck control.

(LTPD) Long Term Player Development Model & it's Importance

During the course of a young hockey player's career you may hear the following term used by coaches and players alike - Long Term Player Development (LTPD) Model. A good question that parents may have is, " What exactly is the LTPD model and why is it important ? " Simply put, the

Road to the NHL
 Dream vs Reality

So let's talk about the big question every player and parent asks themselves. How hard is it to actually make it to the big show? What are the actual numbers and chances of becoming a professional NHL hockey player?

In 2013, Jim Parcels, a former Peterborough Pete's trainer and Ken Campbell, a writer for The Hockey News, co-authored Selling the Dream: How Hockey Parents and Their Kids Are Paying the Price for Our National Obsession. In the book, Parcels breaks down the odds of a kid from Ontario making the NHL. Out of the select 30,000 players they studied, 48 were drafted by an NHL team, and 39 of those 48 actually signed contracts with an NHL team.

sessions are progressively tailored to suit the player's skill level, and focus on attaining "total puck confidence" — the ability to shoot, pass and control the puck with ease.

LTPD is a 9 stage model created by Hockey Canada, that seeks to maximize a player's potential over the course of their life. The LTPD model covers physical, cognitive and emotional development. Here is an overview of the LTPD model.

Discovery (Ages 0 - 4)

The Discovery stage is where players learn to grasp fundamental movement skills such as running, gliding, jumping and catching. Children are preparing for a physically active lifestyle and are..
